SCOPE OF THE SCHOOL

The tremendous explosion of science and technology has shaken the old leisurely outlook on life and has created intricate problems of social adjustment. The sophisticated life style and the blind imitation of western culture have brought social maladies such as moral insanity, hooliganism, violence etc. The need of the hour is value based education. In addition to the academic excellence the young generation must be sensitive to the environment. Education is not a license for violence but a vaccine for violence. We educated our children to live with others and to appreciate the goodness in others and imbibe the lesson of honesty, humility and co-operation. No education is worth the name if it does not inculcate the qualities necessary for living graciously, harmoniously and efficiently with fellow men. We provide our children systematic and dynamic activities which would help them socialize and inculcate appropriate values, behavioral patterns and knowledge so that they adapt themselves easily to a democratic, secular and egalitarian society.

The Ryan International Montessori School had its humble beginning in June 2015. This school is a centre of excellence offering systematic and innovative learning experience with a unique combination of both Indian & International perspectives. Ryan redefines education beyond mere classroom interaction; elevating it to the level of shaping individuals for the purpose of the entire mankind. The school presently with it's Pre primary (Montessori) and Grade 1 to 8 is moving to the main campus at Vadakkancherry Road,Nr.7th mile Taliparamba. In addition to this a school with Pre-Primary(Montessori) and classes Grade 1-5 is situated in Payangadi near Govt. Hospital Payangadi.Ryan brings a new era in education in Kannur, Taliparamba, Pariyaram, Pilathara, Payangadi, Papinisseri, and the surrounding areas.

Montessori Philosophy and Concepts

The pre-primary & primary division of the Ryan Schools are licensed to follow the Montessori method The Montessori Method has been and is very popular around the world. The Montessori approach is designed to support the natural development of children in a well prepared environment.

Five basic principles fairly & accurately represent how Montessori educators implement the Montessori Method in many kinds of programmes.

1.Respect for the child
2.The absorbent mind
3.Sensitive period
4.The prepared environment and
5.Auto Education

Montessori is a unique method of education designed to take advantage of the sensitive period of learning between the ages of 2 to 6 when they can absorb information easily from an enriched environment.

Busy bees in the Montessori environment

According to Dr. Maria Montessori the goal of early childhood education should be to kindle a child's curiosity, a love for knowledge and a strong desire to learn. The classroom provides the environment and materials that the children need for their personal development which allow them the freedom to choose their activities according to their own personal interests and readiness in a non-competitive environment. The habits and skills which the child acquires are good for a lifetime. This will help them work more efficiently, observe more carefully and concentrate more effectively throughout their life.

" If education is always to be conceived along the same antiquated lines of a mere transmission of knowledge, there is little to be hoped for from it in the bettering of man's future. For, what is the use of transmitting knowledge if the individuals total development lags behind?"

The features and facilities in the school are to be set with the following aspects

To encourage the true learning by experience by:

- Placing emphasis on understanding and discovery rather than on memorization of factual information.
- Providing stimuli which encourage inquiry and curiosity, thus encouraging self-education.
- Providing small group and individualized instruction when possible.
- Maintaining a climate that encourages freedom of thought while stressing personal responsibility.

To encourage worthy membership in society by :

- Allowing freedom of discussion.
- Inviting parental interests in the school on an individual basis, as groups and during parent-teacher conferences
- Stressing personal responsibility in group as well as in individual activities

To encourage constructive use of leisure time by:

- Encouraging reading for enjoyment and relaxation.
- Encouraging participation in programs of service to the school and community.
- Making the school the centre of student activities by providing the facilities and opportunities for enhancement through sports, arts & crafts, student publications and other programs.

PARTNERING WITH PARENTS

Parents are children's first and most important educators. At Ryan, we value and appreciate the important role parents have to play in supporting their children and developing a positive attitude to school and learning.

Education is a partnership between home and school and we place a great deal of emphasis on our partnership with parents. Research has shown that children learn best when home and school work in partnership. When a child starts school, it is not where the parent's job ends and ours begins. It is where our job begins and parent's job continues !

Children coming to the school bring a wealth of knowledge and understanding about the world around them. At Ryan it is our aim to build on these skills and promote a willingness and enthusiasm to learn more. We offer a wide range of opportunities for parents to actively participate in supporting their children in school and to be an integral part of the shaping of this new community.

"Children have never been very good at listening to their elders; but they have never failed to imitatJames Baldwine them.

James Baldwin"

"You may give them your love but not your thoughts for they have their own thoughts. You may house their bodies but not their souls,for their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow,which you cannot visit,not even in your dreams.

Khalil Gibran"
